Jane Iannone

Dedication

"Dreams are the touchstones of our characters."
-Henry David Thoureau

You are the keystones of our lives.

Bette DeMayo

Mrs. DeMayo and Mrs. Iannone:

For the past four years it has been your guidance to which we have turned. There has been nothing quite as overwhelming as the support and devotion you have bestowed. It's hard to imagine life at NHHS without our "dream team" - those smiling faces and understanding eyes always ready with a solution to our problems. We will always remember the laughs; Pooh corner, our blustery carwash, caroling in the cold, and those early morning breakfasts, and will always cherish our time together. Saying "thank you" just isn't enough; you were our mentors, and then our friends. You are a part of us; a part that surrounds our hearts and strengthens our dreams. You are the class of 1996; unique, successful, and strong.

Thank you for all your hard work and dedication,

The Class of '96

The "Dream Team"

CLASS HISTORY

It was all so new at one time, our eyes once wide with expectation and anticipation. Getting lost and feeling small were things once common to our everyday routine. Gradually though, we found our way, feeling more at ease and independent. We began carving our niche ... slowly developing into what we are today.

We began fresh, but not alone. Mrs. DeMayo and Mrs. Iannone took our hands, and despite our blindness of High School, led us to success. At first we followed; learning and listening to our two advisors, but with the passing of each day, our role changed. We moved from the passive newcomers, to a dynamic and inspired group. Beginning with our wrapping paper sales, we expanded to include Halloween candy and Graduation Roses; fundraisers never before attempted at North Haven.

Our stay as freshmen didn't last long, for the year quickly passed. Before we knew it, we were sophomores. With our feet already wet with experience, we again paved our way with new ideas. Locker shelves were made and sold, a scavenger hunt was designed, and raffles were sponsored, raising our treasury and our spirit. Trips in the "DeMayo-Van" made prom selection fun, and class dues breakfasts made mornings easier.

Without time to look back, the '95 school year was at hand, finally marking the start of our upperclassmen career. Participation soared as the Love Bug surveyed, the fruit baskets were delivered, and the snow blanketed our April carwash. Dances and sporting events became our lives, as we made the most of what was offered. Anthony's Ocean View set the scene for our Junior Prom, a night to remember. Another graduation followed, and our Senior year approached.

This, though, was a year like none other. The stress of colleges and anxiety of leaving home weighed heavily upon us. We made the most of the good times; working together on our Senior Class Play, Anything Goes, an smiling as Aqua Turf staged our Senior Prom. New friends were made and a special bond enveloped the entire Senior Class.

Our eyes have seen a great many things. We have come and conquered, and now are getting ready to move on. Memories of the good times we relish, and friendships of the past we fight to keep. Now that we are at the top of our ladder, the time has come to move on and reach for new heights. One thing is for certain however, we will always have a home, a place to go back to. We will always be North Haven High's Class of Nineteen hundred and ninety-six.

It was all so new at one time ... getting lost and feeling small were once common ... at first we followed blindly ... then our role changed ... our eyes have seen many things ... we are the class of 1996 ... we will survive.

- I, Laura Cunningham, leave all the great memories I had at North Haven High to Kristen Cunningham and Dave Cappiello.
- I, James Acabbo, leave nothing; I'm taking it all with me.
- I, Jen Acabbo, leave Justin Laroque the water pistol he so truly deserves.
- I, Allison Asman, leave my car to my brother, Carl. Enjoy it and keep out of trouble!
- I, Steve Barraco, leave all the good times outside of school to Mike Barraco.
- I, Chris Barry, leave my place-kicking ability to Joe Vaspasiano because he needs all the help he can get.
- I, Dan Berns, leave my infinite patience with the high school to Bob Porto and Danielle Vitelli; I know they'll need it.
- I, Dan Blakeslee, leave all the good times to all my underclassmen friends, and leave this place forever.
- I, Robert Borrelli, leave all the troubles and pains to anyone who wants them.
- I, Holy One, leave all of my duct tape and shoelaces to the Friends of Freshmen.
- I, Becky Briglia, leave all the laughs and memories I've made in her class with my Bloody Psycho friends, Lisa, Kelly, and Cat to Mrs. Ranciato.
- I, Erin Michelle Bruce, leave strength, courage, and determination to those students in sincere pursuit of achieving their dreams, while in attendance at North Haven High School.
- I, Nichole Bullock, leave all my laughs, smiles, and good times to Bimo, Heather Bode, Gressa Shail, Lisa Haury, and Gina.
- I, Michelle Gaudreault, leave all the good and bad times to all my friends Kim, Susie, Jen, Toni.
- I, Anne Gormley, leave all of my laughs to Misha and Danielle.
- I, Kelly Grandfield, leave all the good times with my bloody psycho friends, Lisa, Becky, and Cat, to Mrs. Ranciato.
- I, Kate Imholt, leave fencing practices to Christie and Tara and cast parties to Nate, Vanessa, and Christina.
- I, Kristen Kenniston, leave my sister Melissa my bad attitude and my unfinished work.
- I, Kate Leach, leave the New Kids on the Block video and, especially, all the great times I've had in North Haven (and New Haven) to Shauna, Matt, and Dave.

- I, Tracy McFarland, leave all my good times I had in Computer class to Mylissa Rockefeller.
- I, Dave Miller, leave all my long nights of hard work on the stage to Ms. Stockton and the rest of the Drama Club.
- I, Michelle Morrotti, leave my Thanksgiving day tradition to anyone brave enough to keep the Indian Spirit alive.
- I, Kristen Mosher, leave nothing to nobody. I'm taking it all with me.
- I, Erica Musen, leave my determination to anyone who may need it along the way.
- I, John Ort, leave all the times I was late in the morning, which were very rare, and all my love to my "sis," Laura Morgan.
- I, Lara Papacoda, leave all my good times at NHHS to Jennie Plano.
- I, Lisa Pastore, leave my warm memories of North Haven High School and championship swim meets to my brother, Nick.
- I, Katrina Perrelli, leave all my quarters, dimes, and nickels for gas and all our problems with our friends, to Lisa Perrotti.
- I, Lisa Burress, leave all the laughs and memories I've made in her class with my Bloody Psycho friends, Becky, Kelly, and Cat to Mrs. Ranciato.
- I, Nick Cappiello, leave all the good times I had at North Haven High School to my brother Dave and all the pride left in this school to Kristen Cunningham.
- I, David Celotto, leave all my good times to my sister Kim and the parties at Starno's to Cals, Finoa, Shawn, and Puglia.
- I, Jessica Coifman, leave my photogenic debonair smile, my unused lock of my locker, and my little white lies that have produced hysterical laughter to my "Sixteen Candle's" buddies.
- I, Priscilla Crespo, leave my sister Kyra four years of memories, hardwork, and a lot of fun. Good Luck!
- I, Jenn Dahlback, leave my assassin secrets to Mike, Jill, and Adam. To Danielle I leave the title "Senior Pig."
- I, the littlest DeMayo, leave to my "mater" and "pater" the memories of our high school legacy; the cold football games, long afternoon meetings, and tuna helper nights. Long live "de bears!"

- I, Tony DePascale, leave all the good times, the parties, and the cool teachers to Kristin, Manny, Marlene, Mike, Peg and everyone else.
- I. Aimee, leave all the memories and great times I've had to Chris, I love you.
- I. Christina Eger, leave to future NHHS students a bit of advice: be yourself, respect others, pay attention, aspire to reach your full potential; and most importantly — have fun!
- I. Maria Fappiano, leave all the leftover men to Valerie and Erica. I also leave Antonio Sabato Jr. for all to enjoy.
- I, David Flyntz, leave to all the juniors, floor plans to teachers' whereabouts at all periods, to sophomores all of my hallway passes and to freshmen. -Nothing!
- I, Jennifer Polletta, leave Jen Dwyer all the good times in Powder Puff.
- I. Amanda Marie Quinto, leave memories of "Littlehead" and Rave clothes to Valerie Ianucci, lots of hugs to Kristin Longobardi, Ritter stories to Anthony Cillo, and Prince Spaghetti to Muffin Man.

- I, Megan Quitko, leave Rebecca Johnson a safe and happy ride to school everyday.
- I, Jennifer Raposo, leave all my good times to my cousin Tanya Pereira.
- I, Jen Setaro, leave my long tee ball and smooth putting stroke to Mr. Bonito. Thanks for every-
- I, Brian Silengo, leave all my spacers as well as gallons of orange juice to Allison Bimonte for her use.
- I, Danny Speckamp, leave all my fun times in the U.S. to "The Bacons" — and Elisabeth.
- I, Dave Starno, leave my room and its use to all my friends.
- I, Doug Stingo, leave my Private Projects to Mark, Mike, Shawn, Mike; and all my good times to Karey.
- I, Meron Tafesse, leave all my good times at North Haven to Surafal Shenkuta.
- I, Melissa Tait, leave my green, plastic water cup in the Chorus Office to anyone who wants it!
- I, Kenneth Zercie, leave Matt Wilson all the girls that have strings at NHHS.

We, the class of 1996, leave gratitude and affection to all who made the past four years educational, enjoyable, and entertaining. To the future classes of North Haven High School, we wish success, happiness, and everlasting memories.

IN WITNESS THEREOF, We hereunto set our hand and seal at North Haven High School, to this our Class Will and Testament, this first day of June, in the year One Thousand Nine Hundred and Ninety Six.

Come with me
My dear friend,
On a journey too long to end,
Too short to continue,
As if it were a chapter in a book or a glimpsing look into eyes of bliss,
Presuming a person to be alive,
yet; so lifeless.
A trip into time
Putting the world in your hands,
Where the undulations of the ocean
and the lights of the sky,
Become multi colored strands.

Shall I consider you a companion?

The sun rose from the east Portraying significant beauty on the land. She lying there -Toes buried in the sand. Her long limbs laying lifelessly by her side...

Breath with her body: slowly, deeply. In with a crashing wave, Out with the flowing tide.

Sentiments fill the mind, Where shall I go? Who shall I become? These will be inquired in time.

The blue shade in the sky is slowly pulled down to black. Night fills the world, as it fills her, Top to bottom, Front to back.

The time for her to become that someone she has longed to be; To escape the labyrinth of her life, To be one of none, To be unique...

-Lori Bonazzoli

PETAL

Born and grown, Developed into a mound of others, Condensed, Together thought of as one, Alone considered but a fallen part of the whole. With the others it belonged, Not as one, Not as an original, Only but a piece of the Undiminished still present. In its existence as one, It is nothing. But who shall be the judge of what is to become? The piece may evolve into its own whole, Into a whole of ever present singularity.

-Anna Buono

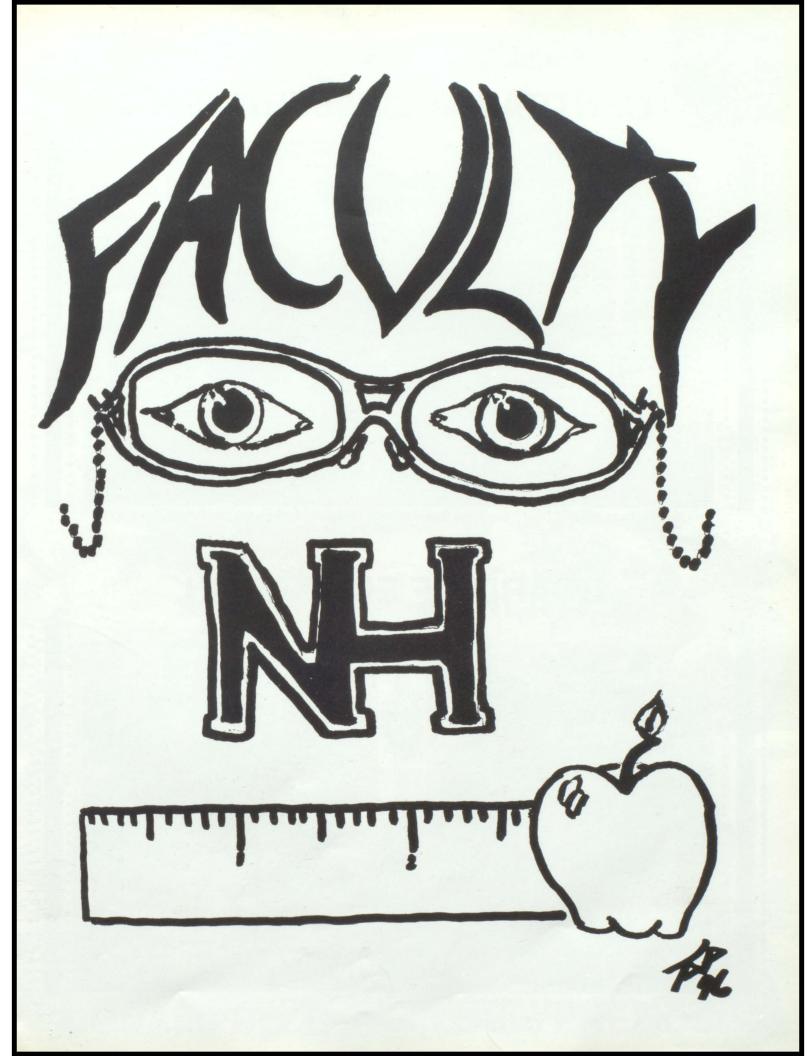

This road we've traveled has been getting shorter, The days we had together were taken for granted in the past, But now we realize their meaning, their importance. Those times together have molded us into our singular selves, Being together we didn't even know what was happening. We understand now, at this point finally, That the road had to end sooner, not later, than we thought. "How can we part?" we ask, We have become each other in ways, Taken on each other's qualities, Learned from and prepared each other for what is to come. We belong together, always. But how are we to live our lives without parting? When one day we become one again, We will bring new experiences with us and once again, Learn from each other. Missing one another will be hell, However, the happiest moments will be reuniting, reminiscing. Our past will never be forgotten, It is a promise we've made to our hearts. Not one single one of us will ever have a fear of loneliness. We will take along with us a piece of others, So that the new road we travel Is full of the happiness we all once shared. Until the day when we become whole again, Love to all, forever.

THE DAYS

Seeing Through The Eyes Of Faith

A tribute in the memory of

GianCarlo DePascale

1996

THE LONG FIGHT by Lisa Midolo

We know you were sick, we know you were weak. We know that the sickness made you meek.

1982

You fought for so long, you tried to be well. But that's not the story God wanted to tell. One day we'll all meet together as one, and then, only then, will the story be done.

November 8, 1995
As we walked onto the field it felt
Like a carpet underneath our cleats.
Our souls had been yearning for this one day,
This one game.

The sun was cold but still rays of light Shimmered off the blades of grass. The whistle blew, the clock ticked slowly. Then suddenly our hearts were ripped out As the field hockey ball rolled slowly over That thin white line into the cage. Time stopped, tears were shed; It was over.

Break a leg Eggplant!

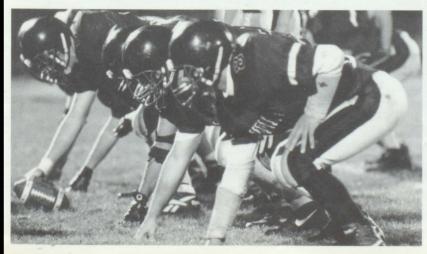

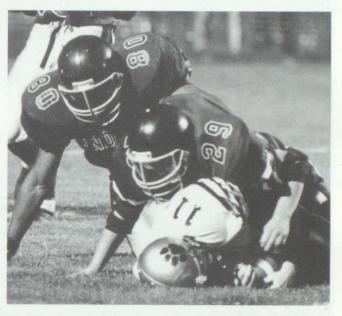

It all started when I was five years old. From Flag, to Midget, to Freshmen, to High School; football has been in my life for about 12 years and now it has come to an end.

I will never step onto the field again as a player, nor will

I ever feel the pads on my body.

The rush of that first home game is over, as is the thrill of the opening game of the season.

I will never feel the crispness of a clean hit, whether given or received, I will miss it.

I will never again feel the glory of winning, I will never again feel the pain of losing.

For someday I will look back on the memories and realize, that these times were precious; irreplaceable. It was on this day, November 23, Thanksgiving Day 1995, that I went to Cheshire seeking a winners fame, and after 12 years played my last football game.

Many Thanks

Ms. Ruoff: "The hostess with the mostess" She provides all food, fun and entertainment (crackers, cheese, and plenty of typing) for every meeting. Thank you for making the Media center feel just like home!

Mrs. Haynes: "The Ad Woman" This money making machine is responsible for all Yearbook funds, (or lack thereof). In addition she is now a lean, mean, proof reading machine.

Mrs. Preziosi: "The peace maker" Acting as the Yearbook therapist, she helps diffuse all those "sticky situations." She is also responsible for providing all the entertaining stories - we love ya!

Despite all the setbacks, lost pages, misplaced disks, overblown fights, and lack of surprises, WE DID IT! Thank you so much for all your hard work and dedication. As a team, you guys are the top! We love ya!

-The Editors

An Editor's Dictionary ...

Advisors: (n) Peace keeping, patient leaders who generously volunteer much time to insure a measure of order and smoothness in the making of our Yearbook.

Class Will: (n) See group therapy.

Clip Art Book: (n) That which is always needed but never found.

Deadlines: (n) Constantly missed dates when an exorbitant number of double page spreads are due to the plant. Also associated with the visits of our savior, Bob Sasena.

Editors: (n) A group of students whose suppressed desires are a) to once again be classified simply as members, and b) to permanently bind and gag Kristen.

Even Pages: (n) What Michelle will hopefully master by our last deadline.

Nacho Man: (n) Of no relation to the Yearbook, yet a definite source of comic relief.

Job Number: (n) The only number Kristen is able to commit to memory. Every page, paper, and picture is adorned with these five digits.

Junk Food: (n) What every member requires before doing any work for the Yearbook. Also, what most of Kristen's money is spent on.

Member: (n) An Editor's best friend.

Page Maker: (n) An impossible computer program at which John is the ultimate expert (and only knowledgeable user).

Sachem: (n) A book, of some two hundred pages, containing a collection of important events from the past year. Characterized by over-worked editors, advisors, and members, nearly missed deadlines, and food-filled meetings.

Surprises: (n) What Bob always forgets to bring.

Thank you: Two words which almost never pass through Kristen's lips, yet are well deserved by each and every Yearbook member, Editor, and Advisor.

We did it! All my love, Kristen
