

Mrs. Hilton,
To the most wonderful teacher that I have ever had. I don't know how I could ever have done for all the good things you have had me. I will never forget all the fun I will be next year. And 6th period. I pray that you be good! Have a wonderful summer and be good! I hope you pick your brains with my slivering needle sometimes. Yours tell the

Mrs. Hilton,
It's really been a pleasure having you as a teacher. This past year I've enjoyed the course more than I thought. I have a nice summer and don't work too hard.

Into the cafeteria.

After a long week the students return on Saturdays to cheer the Indians.

Getting ready for the game . . .

And working hard until the end.

MRS. LOUISE BEARSE

Dedication

Mrs. Louise Bearse, high school librarian since 1953, is a native of Springfield, Massachusetts. She was graduated from Boston University and later from the Simmons School of Library Science. Since then she has taught English for over twenty years in Massachusetts, taken courses at the University of Michigan, and worked in the children's section of the Springfield City Library.

In 1953 she came to North Haven and built up the high school library to over ten thousand volumes and seventy-three periodicals. Mrs. Bearse, according to the state's suggested number of librarians to handle a library of our size, is doing the work of more than one person. She has also trained a number of student librarians, organized an active library club, and has been active herself in librarian's associations throughout the state.

The Class of 1965 would like to thank Mrs. Bearse for the work she has done for us and every class before us. She has worked quietly, and diligently, to give North Haven one of the best high school libraries in the state. The senior class feels that it could not dedicate this SACHEM to anyone as deserving as you, Mrs. Bearse.

In Appreciation

MRS. JOYCE OLSON

We the class of 1965 would like to express our deepest gratitude to our advisors, Mrs. Olson and Mr. Perrone. It is due to their constant, helpful effort, that this yearbook has been made possible.

"Do you think that picture would get through the censor staff?"

"How about having a spiral classbook this year?"

MR. MICHAEL PERRONE

"I wasn't the one who decided to have a chartreuse cover"

You, Mr. Perrone and Mrs. Olson will be kept among our fondest memories of North Haven High.

"Mrs. Olson, you ought to give up teaching and go into yearbook production"

Superintendent's Message

May this yearbook ever be a reminder of three interesting and profitable years of study and activity at the North Haven High School. Within these covers you have preserved for many years to come those memories and recollections which have been of true interest and value to you.

Your community has provided each student with excellent lay and professional leaders, a dynamic curriculum, and good facilities and equipment which collectively have made it possible for each student to acquire skills, information, attitudes and understandings which should ever be meaningful and useful. May each of you graduates always appreciate the unusual advantages that have been provided you as a student at the North Haven High School.

This fine yearbook is a tribute to those who have made it possible. It represents hours of devotion on the part of many people. May it always be a prized possession.

And finally, to each member of the graduating class of 1965, we congratulate you. We are proud of each of you. We would express the hope that the future will continue to challenge the best in you in order that our society, broadly conceived, can continue to develop an appreciation and use of human worth and values to the end that our nation and world will profit by the wholesome and effective education provided.

Principal's Message

To each member of the Class of 1965 we offer our congratulations upon your graduation from North Haven High School. For each of you commencement offers new challenges and responsibilities.

Your teachers have attempted to impress upon you a philosophy that one's goals should not be grades or honors; these are but symbols used to motivate you toward the acquisition of skills, knowledge and concepts which are the essential parts of a good education. The ultimate goal of education, however, is to provide a foundation for making independent judgments and decisions based on accurate facts, clear reasoning and understanding.

The world in which you will participate will offer you many difficult choices between truth and falsehood, the worthwhile and the trivial. If we have truly accomplished our objectives in our educational program, you should be equipped to make these choices. We have confidence that we have had reasonable success in the attainment of these goals and that you will continue to develop and foster those qualities which will make you a more effective, contributing member of our society.

Your teachers join us in wishing you success and happiness in the years ahead.

English Department

In pursuing its goal of teaching students to read and write more effectively, the English Department has found itself rebuilding and experimenting in 1964-65. In connection with a system-wide curriculum revision the members of the department have revised virtually every phase of the high school course of study. They have diversified the books available for classroom study. Now, though there are certain books which are required reading for all students, teachers may choose from a wide range of supplementary readings those books which best suit the ability and interests of their classes. There has been considerable experimentation by individual teachers, by English teachers working in teams with Social Studies teachers, and by English teachers working in teams with other English teachers.

History Department

In attempting to develop in the student an understanding of history, past, present, and future, the Social Studies Department offers courses in World History, United States History, and Problems of Democracy. The United Nations Club, Student Forum and the American Field Service are all closely related to the Social Studies Department, and are used to promote further the Department's objectives. This year the Student Forum invited the Probate Judge candidates to the school for a discussion of their qualification, and an explanation of town government. Throughout the year, this club and others like it worked with the Social Studies Department not only for their benefit but also for the benefit of the school.

Mathematics Department

The Mathematics Department proudly boasts about its modern mathematics program. All classes are studying the School Mathematics Study Group materials.

North Haven High School students have participated in the three annual contests sponsored by The Greater New Haven Area Mathematics League. One of the contests was held at North Haven this year. Two seniors, two juniors, and one sophomore represented North Haven at each contest.

In March, 105 students participated in the annual contest sponsored by the Mathematical Association of America and the Society of Actuaries.

North Haven is also part of the National Longitudinal Study of Mathematical Abilities sponsored by the National Science Foundation—a five-year study. This year approximately 125 seniors participated in two testing sessions—one in the fall and one in the spring. Results of this study will be used in curriculum study to improve the teaching of mathematics.

MISS PHAEDRA RANGAZAS
Albertus Magnus College, B.A.

The Language Department of North Haven High School is proud that there are fourth year and fifth year classes in French, Latin and Spanish. Another source of pride to the Language Department is the fact that one of North Haven High School graduates of the class of 1964, Denise Kahn, is currently studying at the Sorbonne. Usually one studies there during his junior year in college.

In our language classes we stress the oral approach to literature, grammar and civilization. Because there are slow, average and advanced classes in our department, the student is better able to learn French, Latin or Spanish at his own pace.

Many French students are corresponding with Parisian high school students and a "mousse" from the S.S. France is one of the most popular correspondents. Thanks to him, Room 49 is the proud owner of a "bonnet de marin". Despite the fact that the U.S.A. is not number 1 on De Gaulle's list, the French students of N.H.H.S., have won many friends for themselves in "la belle France".

The Science Program at North Haven High School includes Biology I, Biology II, Chemistry, Physics, Physical Science and Science V.

The science program emphasizes laboratory centered courses which provide the students with the opportunity to actively participate in discovering the concepts being studied. Emphasis is also on providing the opportunity for all students to participate in the various science courses offered.

The program of studies is continually undergoing revision to meet the needs and interests of students.

Business Education Department

This year the Business Education Department has continued to offer its totally elective program to both college and job bound students. This dual program is proving successful in that many business-oriented students are going on to college and also in the great deal of success achieved in early job placement of terminal students.

Among the new things during this year have been the updating of many of the machines used in the department in paving the way for inclusion of some training in data processing. This, along with plans for an all-electric advanced typing room are now under consideration.

Industrial Arts Department

The Industrial Arts Department is designed to give each student some meaningful experience in the areas of woodworking, metal, graphic arts, engineering drawing, and electronics.

Last year a special program was incorporated into the engineering field which was designed to give experience in both design and application for those planning to enter this field. Also a greater move toward more technical experience in the woodworking field was put into effect. The results of these new programs were many. Students who didn't feel they wanted to go on in school were given jobs faster. They had practical experience in their chosen technical field which is one of the goals of the Industrial Arts Department.

Physical Education

Two recent innovations in the Physical Education Department have been a special physical fitness report card and activity selection for seniors.

The free selection of activities has been offered for the past two years with some favorable success on the day seniors only have physical education. The purpose is to offer individual and dual activities that have post graduation value such as tennis and archery. However the lack of indoor facilities has handicapped the winter phase of this program.

The special report card, which will be sent to the home of each eleventh grader, will indicate the students' physical fitness test scores while pointing out his or her strengths or weaknesses.

Homemaking

The Home Economics program strives to meet the challenge of preparing the students for successful personal and family living in our changing world.

Students are guided to determine values, develop attitudes acquire information and learn skills which they can apply to everyday experiences.

The curriculum includes study in the areas of clothing and textiles, foods and nutrition, consumer education, home planning, child development, care of sick and family relations.

Art

The aims of the Art Department are three-fold. One is to provide adequate preparation for those who wish to go on to art school, two is to acquaint all with a satisfying use for leisure time, and three is to instill in all students an appreciation for the world's art heritage, both past and present.

Art I introduces the student briefly to the many areas included in commercial art and fine art. Art II takes a few of these areas and delves more deeply into them. Art III emphasizes a free choice of projects under the direction of the teacher.

Music

This year the high school band, under the direction of Alex Winsco made a tour of all the elementary schools at Christmas time. This gave the band experience in performing so that when the March Spring Music Festival was given the band sounded quite professional.

The Chorus, Concert Choir and newly formed D.Q. added much to both school programs and public programs. At Christmas the annual concert was given at the Junior High, and the WTIC Hootnanney Roadshow came to the school in early December. Both the band and the choral part of the Music Department devoted much time this year to the entertainment of the school.

During the past school year the Guidance Department continued its basic plan of allowing each grade counselor to follow his class through graduation. The loss of one counselor, however, resulted in some modification to this schedule: Mr. Finnegan assumed the duties of senior counselor, Mr. Stoddard continued as the counselor for the Class of 1966, and Mr. Watson became counselor for the Class of 1967.

One of the basic aims of the high school guidance program is to provide continuing counseling to all students, including graduates, and the counselors look forward to rendering future assistance to members of the Class of 1965 after graduation.

Class of '65

Sue O'Neill and Ken Gates

SEVENTH GRADE

In seventh grade, the Class of 1965 first got together at Village Street School. We were a group of strangers, but after a month or two we began to make friends.

We were the only class at Village that year and we felt almost like senior high students. We had dancing in the gym after school, and even football teams.

Our class dance, entitled Seventh Sea, was held in at the high gym, decorated with sea-nets and octopi. We all had a wonderful time.

Our next major activity was an operetta, "The Mikado". Mrs. Bailey, our music teacher, handled the production, and the Class of '65 did quite well!

After gruelling competition for parts, Diane Winsco, Karen DeVita, Jim Ackerman, Joanne Hayes, and Ed Nelbach were chosen to be our singers and actors. They made their own wigs, and rented or made Japanese costumes.

As we neared the end of 7th grade, we were no longer the little elementary-school kids from 4 different schools, but one group of almost-high-school students, ready and anxious to move on to the new Junior High.

EIGHTH GRADE

In September of 1960, as 8th graders, we tromped the halls of the brand new Junior High, trying to find the rooms we were assigned to. We acquired lockers, a new privilege, and set out to fill them with books. We liked the new school, but we had a lot of responsibilities now. We had homework almost every night, and the job of working for the Class of '65.

On February 17, we had our first big dance in the school, "Rocking on Cloud 8". Everything turned out surprisingly well, as stars floated down from clouds of cotton. Leaving the dance at the bewitching hour of 11:00, we young socialities bid farewell to our friends and went home to dream of the wonderful evening we had enjoyed.

Soon we were looking forward to that gorgeous day when we would become freshmen! We waited eagerly for the courtyards, but were dreadfully dissatisfied to find that when the last day came, the courtyard doors were locked. Oh, well, we figured, there's always next year!

NINTH GRADE

The fall of '61 came and we finally got those courtyards! But remember all the threats to take them away?

Girls' intramural baseball—the R.R.S.'s (Ridge Road?), the Existentialists, the Alley-Oops—brought enjoyment to many 9th graders. Our boys' teams were great, as football, basketball and baseball games attracted many spirited fans.

Hawaiian Paradise, our final dance at the Junior High, was an evening filled with happy memories. Remember the poor waiters who had to jump at our commands to bring cookies and cake?

As the end of the year came, we knew we'd be leaving the Junior High for N.H.H.S., and we were a little sad to leave our position as the oldest class and become the sophomores.

TENTH GRADE

We entered the high school in '62, with Tony Tondalo as our President, Ken Gates as Vice-President, Sandy Cistulli as Treasurer and Beth Putnam as Secretary.

From the bread-lines of the Junior High to the prosperous maturity of high school.

History

Pat Tallon, Carolyn Cognata, Cheryl Collins, and Cathy Tully sit one out at "7th Sea."

It was a confused year for most of us. With no class party, the only big event was Fantasy in Frost. The class dance was enjoyed by those who attended, but very few of us were there. The name proved appropriate since it snowed 6 inches!

All in all, the tenth grade was a lot of fun and confusion in a new school, and a lot of getting used to the responsibilities of being senior high students.

ELEVENTH GRADE

At last the fall of '63 came, relieving us of our "lowly sophomore" status. Our enthusiastic officers were President, Tom Leahy, Vice-President, Paul Sartini, Secretary, Doris Mansfield, and Treasurer, Pat Matheson. Our advisors were Mr. DeLucia and Miss Lee.

After several weeks of anxious waiting, Panikoff came through again! We received our class rings, and came one step closer to that senior year.

Meanwhile, the Class of '65 went all out in courtyard capers. Several artistic members of the class painted maroon and white "1965" on the seniors' hallowed ground.

On October 22, we had our first class party. We thoroughly enjoyed ourselves, and left the dance proclaiming the greatness of '65.

After Christmas vacation, we made plans for our Junior Prom. Pat Parrella and Ken Gates were co-chairmen, aided by Karen Klaiber on Decorations; Beth Culler, on Publicity; Pete Aiardo, Band; Karen Tiskus, Bids; Sue O'Neill, Refreshments; Al Pesticci, Clean-up; and Paul Sargent, King and Queen. After many weeks of preparation, the big night of April 11th finally arrived. We danced the night away to the beautiful music of Arnold Most. Ken Gates and Sue O'Neill were royalty for an evening, in a magnificent ballroom dominated by the revolving "Carousel". We left the prom at midnight for 3 more hours of fun at St. Theresa's Church. The next morning, we were all up bright and early to picnic at the beach.

As the class of '64 graduated, many juniors served on the Honor Guard or as ushers. The next day, June 19, we finally became seniors! We took possession of the courtyard, and left for the summer, looking forward to a great senior year.

TWELFTH GRADE

In the fall of '64 we came back to N.H.H.S. ready for our senior year. Our officers were Ken Gates, President; Harry DeBenedet, Vice-President; Doris Mansfield, Secretary; and Pat Matheson, Treasurer. Miss Lee and Mr. De Lucia served as advisors again.

After six weeks of nightly rehearsals (Remember the hootenanny in the teachers' lounge?), we successfully performed our class play, "The Time of Your Life", on November 20 and 21. Many controversies raged over the censoring of the play, but it served its dual purpose of raising money and giving enjoyment.

Then came our first senior class party, on December 9. The rollicking fun we all in our old sloppy clothes made us eager for the next party, in April, which turned out just as well.

The unforgettable Senior Prom on May 22 was the Class of 1965's last formal gathering. Everyone had a wonderful time, and continued the fun the next morning at the beach.

After the prom, we had only to wait for our yearbooks. Finally the last hectic week arrived. Yearbooks, the Teachers' Reception, Awards Night passed, and finally came Graduation.

The end of our senior year was only the beginning of new lives for us at college or in new careers.

As we waltz on through life we will always carry with us "Mem'ries of North Haven High."

NEIL MITCHILL

EDITORS-IN-CHIEF

A lot of work goes into turning 200 sheets of dummy paper into a yearbook. This year the staffs really dug in and helped with every phase of the book. Mr. Perrone and Mrs. Olson, our advisors, helped considerably in checking copy and galleys—(their red pens correcting every other word). The lay-outs were done, for the most part, by the staffs. Jane Cozzolino and Lucille LaMonaca did a terrific job on the Clubs and Activities section, which, next to the senior section, is the largest and hardest portion of the book. Marilyn Cestaro has set a new record (according to the Telephone Company). She has dialed 777-5596 (Jay Storm's) 4,356,243 times this year. Pat Matheson has worn out "First initial and last name please" and "How do you spell that?" Bruce Cashman and Barry Sinoway racked their brains every afternoon thinking of witty words to put under a mud-spattered football player, while Bill Scrivener was careful not to let the sliding shortstop slide off the lay-out. Phil Lendroth worked very hard on his Swim Team write-up, being infinitely gentle with their record. That pioneer in basketball lay-outs—Gil Lewis, worked with Chris Dirks and Barby Endel, to come out with an extra-long format to allow for lay-up shots. "Make hay while the sun shines," and "A penny saved is a penny earned" were the sounds from the Biography Staff—trying very hard to find a person to fit their latest find in quotations. Beth Culler and Karen Tiskus worked week-ends and after school to get the biographies ready for the first deadline. Doris Mansfield and her staff had terrific memories, coming up with an interesting history of our class. Judy Reilly really did a tremendous job on Girl's Sports, along with Barbara Tomczak ("Will you contribute 25¢ for the "To Us From Us" picture?"). Sue Forand, Paul Sargent and Ken Gates worked diligently to get enough money up to pay for this "magnum opus." They did the whole Ad Section and supervised the sales of Boosters and Ads. The Proof Reading editors were the detectives of this outfit, and found mistakes we never thought we made. The Typing Staff was really the gem of this ocean of copy. Rowlyn Kopf, Cookie Garbero, Chris Kaiser and a whole bunch of helpers typed practically every word in this book. (I think they were trying to keep Neil and me away from the typewriters*#%.) While writing this we've had a chance to think about all that's happened with this book, and we've come to a few conclusions. 1. It really wasn't as bad as we thought, and 2. The SACHEM and '65 have an awful lot of friends.

Clubs and Activities

STUDENT COUNCIL

This year the Student Council discussed the establishment of an honor roll and a student court at N.H.H.S. The council business was presented to the students through a representative in each history class. As usual the council sponsored the annual Harvest Hop along with their autumn sock hop. Although the cafeteria program failed because of lack of co-operation from the students, the council continually attempted to improve relations between the student body and administration and faculty. Besides formulating school policy, the council sends representatives to all Housatonic meetings throughout the year.

STUDENT COUNCIL OFFICERS

Barry Sinoway, Treasurer; Bruce Cashman, President; Sue Williams, Secretary; Paul Sargent, Vice-President.

Standing: M. Nichols, Allan Taylor, Tom Leahy, B. Krzeminski, Bill Thompson.

THE TORCH

The staff of The Torch has worked to make an organ of student expression and to keep the student body aware of what is going on around the school. Interesting articles which have appeared in the Torch range from trenchant play reviews to an exclusive interview with Floyd Little, Connecticut's All-American.

TORCH MEMBERS

LITERARY MAGAZINE

With the full and enthusiastic co-operation of creative writing students, this year's literary magazine, entitled Water and Dust, has achieved great popularity among the members of the student body and faculty. The magazine consists of poems, sketches, and short stories. Although the creative writing is chiefly done by students, there has also been excellent contributions from some of the teachers. This student teacher co-operation has helped to make this year's magazine a delightful literary achievement.

LITERARY MAGAZINE EDITORS

GIRLS' TENNIS CLUB

The Girls' Tennis Club, "coached" by Mrs. Miller, was a new addition to the extra-curricular activities at North Haven. The plans for the club were to divide the girls into groups according to their abilities, help develop more advanced skills, and then ultimately stage an intra-mural tournament. Another goal of the club was to eventually hold mixed double matches with the Boys' Tennis Club.

BOYS' TENNIS CLUB

The Boys' Tennis Club, under the direction of Mr. Church and Mr. Mercuri, had its debut at N.H.S. this year. Although it was too early to hold real intra-mural tournaments, a "ladder" was established to create competitive spirit. The ultimate aim of the club is to have a tennis team representing our school.

ART CLUB OFFICERS

John Anzel, President; Marie Candalora, Secretary; Stuart Mackellar, Vice-President.

ART CLUB

The Art Club is composed of students whose interest in art is sincere. The members are able to work on paintings, sculptures and numerous other forms of art. The members also help in several of the schools dramatic productions by painting and building the sets. The Art Club's most impressive display of its members' talent comes on Art Night. Here the art students exhibit their best work.

A.F.S. OFFICERS

AMERICAN FIELD SERVICE

The American Field Service is under the leadership of Miss Nancy Glidden. Although the A.F.S. did not bring a student over to North Haven, it plans to do so next year. The purpose of the club is to introduce a foreign student to an American community. It has been working full force on fund-raising projects—such as the girl's football game—so a student can be brought to North Haven next year.

RADIO CLUB

RADIO CLUB

The Radio Club, under the guidance of Mr. Mercuri, is organized to help further the knowledge of its members. These boys get the chance to do advance work in the field of electronics. The club opens new fields of exploration which its members would not otherwise come in contact with.

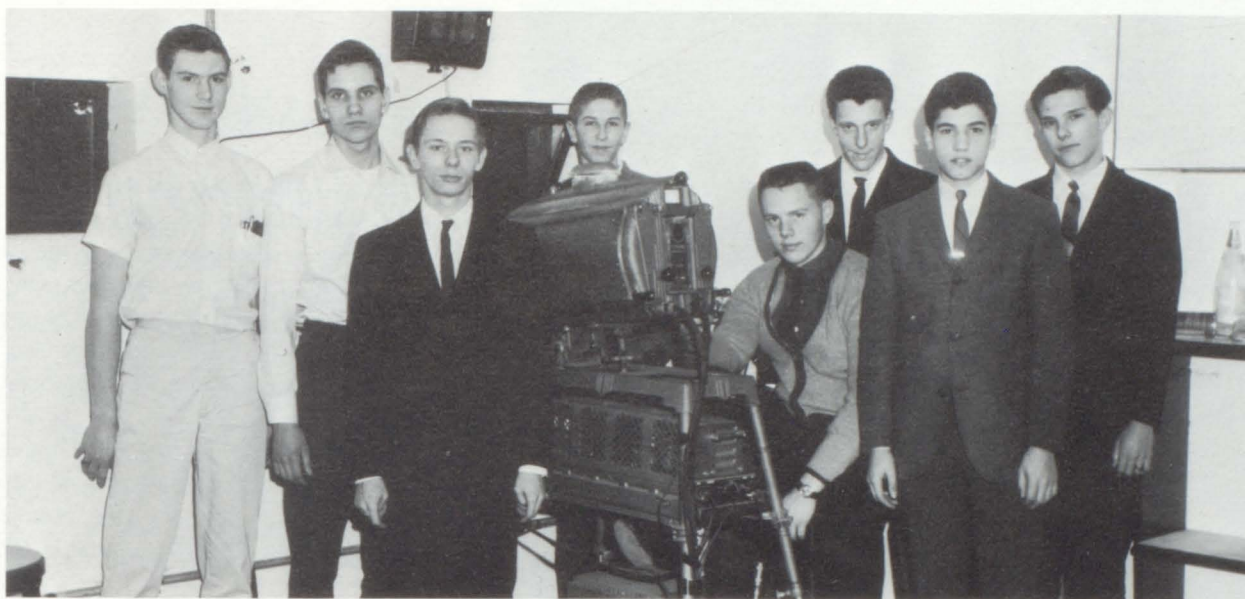

SCIENCE CLUB

The students in the Science Club develop their interest in science at an informal level. Meeting several times each month, the members engage in individual and group projects. Occasionally there are films, lectures and field trips. The most important function of the Science Club is the annual Science Fair. At the Science Fair, Club members and students display science projects. The projects are judged by science teachers and prizes are awarded in the spring.

THE A. V. CLUB

Bob Hatch, Don Jacobs, John Martus, President; Frank Mursko, Dudley Shepard, Secretary; Vinnie Meyers, Treasurer; Don Gray, Tony Zammataro.

THE A. V. CLUB

The Audio-Visual Club has been of great help during the school year. Its members have made available to the faculty and students the equipment that was needed in the education programs. The club has also taken care of all programs that concern the auditorium projection equipment. The club members instruct others in the use of the audio-visual facilities as well as repairing and delivering equipment. The club is under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Wright.

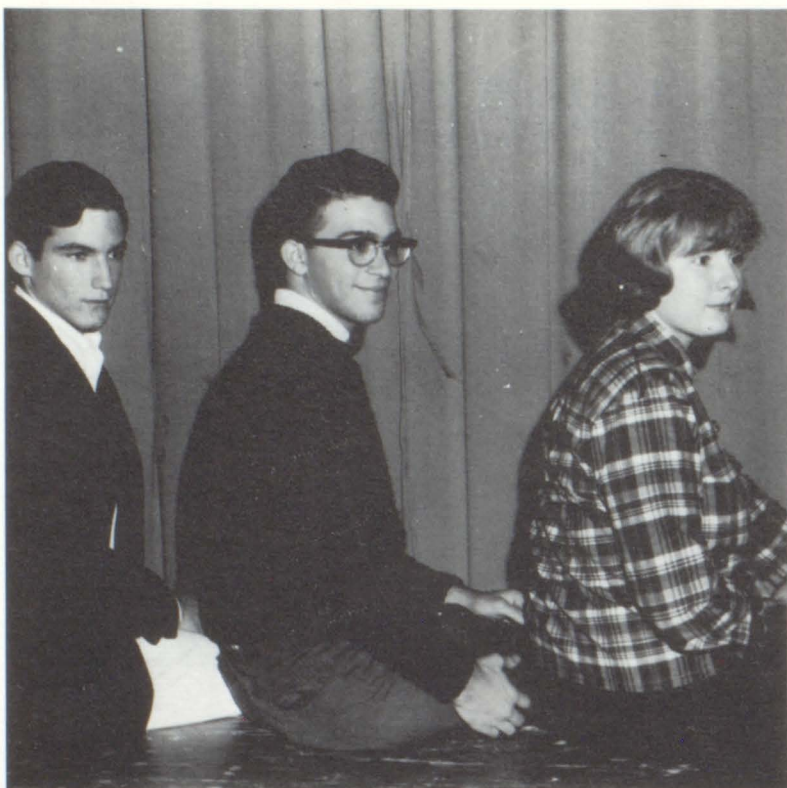

LIGHTING CLUB

Under the competent direction of Mr. Wright, the Lighting Club has been of great assistance to all projects requiring lighting or sound effects. The six boys in the club were trained to safely and efficiently operate the lighting equipment. They have done an excellent job to improve the stage productions.

DRAMA CLUB

The Drama Club, under the direction of Miss Malard and Mr. Simens, provides students with the opportunity to gain experience in the various aspects of drama, such as costumes, make-up, stage crew, lighting and directing. The goal of the club is the production of one play each year for two evening performances. Approximately five months of work goes into this production, beginning with tryouts in the fall. Diligent rehearsing and other preparations follow throughout the winter. This year the club presented a production of Rebel Without a Cause at the end of February.

DRAMA CLUB OFFICERS

SHAKESPEARE CLUB

The Shakespeare Club, under the supervision of Mr. Church is now in its third year. The aim of the club is to increase the students' understanding and enjoyment of Shakespeare's works. The members of the club produce two plays each year, one in the fall and one in the spring. This year's selections were Othello and As You Like It. Besides the presentations of plays, the students also attend professional productions of Shakespeare's works. In the fall of this year the members of the club and other interested students attended a presentation of Othello in New York.

PEP CLUB

The 1,000,000 screaming girls who make up the Pep Club are loudly in evidence at every football and basketball game. The club also sells shakers to finance its activities such as making posters and painting the scoreboard. This year, for the first time, the girls held a social with pep clubs from other schools.

CAMPUS STORE

The girls who worked in the Campus Store each morning and afternoon were in for more than their usual amount of work this year. Following a new policy issued by the administration, all financial business, including the buying of yearbooks, activity tickets and away-game bus tickets, was carried on at the Campus Store. As a result rush-hour was twice as busy, and the hard-working girls should be given credit for a fine job.

THE LATIN CLUB

The Latin Club, which is under the direction of Miss Casper, affords to its members the opportunity to study the culture and civilization of the ancient Romans or Greeks. This year the Latin Club's emphasis will be on Greece. The club plans to have a Greek Christmas Tea, a trip to the Metropolitan Museum, and the usual Latin Club banquet in the spring.

THE FRENCH CLUB

The French Club, directed by Miss Rebecca Satterlee, gives interested French students an opportunity to become better acquainted with French culture and customs. Beside the popular annual Christmas party, the club participates in such activities as the viewing of foreign films and the planning of French dinners, held in the homes of club members.

THE LIBRARY CLUB

The Library Club assists in library routines, such as checking, processing and shelving books and magazines. The club also prepares displays of books and bulletin boards.

31-A CLUB

In its second year of existence, the 31-A Club has been of great help to the faculty. The members sort out books left in Room 31-A, and often act as detectives tracking down books for the English Department. In fact the 31-A Club is the F.B.I. of the English Department.

DEBATE CLUB OFFICERS

DEBATE CLUB

The Debate Club this year is larger than it has ever been before. Since most of the members are underclassmen, it appears likely that both the club's size and its record of victories will continue to grow. This year, advised by Mr. Samberg and Mr. Dodds, the club has participated in model congresses and debating tournaments all over the state. For the entire year, the issue of debate has been whether or not nuclear weapons should be controlled by an international organization. Through debating, members have learned a great deal about this extremely important question.

THE CHORUS

The Chorus, which totals close to 90 members, is organized for the purpose of choral singing. Mr. Donald Parsons directs the singers in sessions during school and some members after school. Also under his direction are the Concert Choirs, Double Quartet, the all state winner, and the Danbury Festival Group. The Chorus performed at the Christmas Concert, a Spring Concert, and our Assembly programs. They also toured the elementary schools and gave a concert at Woolsey Hall, May 15.

FOOTBALL 1964

BRIAN TITUS and MIKE LANDINO
Co-Captains

1964 was an exciting season of football. The Indians finished first in the Housatonic League for the third straight year. North Haven ran up its unbeaten streak to 19 games, one of the longest ever compiled in the state, before finally losing to East Haven in a close game, 8-0. The team worked hard to achieve such a record and there were several memorable victories along the way. Derby held North Haven scoreless for the better part of four quarters before the Indians broke loose for two quick scores and a 13-6 triumph. Again held scoreless for most of the game, the Indians finally scored against Shelton and Jim Bradanini's conversion gave North Haven its slim margin of victory, 7-6. The key to North Haven's success lay in its strong defense. The Indians allowed only 32 points all year and never gave up more than one touchdown in any one game. Three times they held their opponents scoreless.

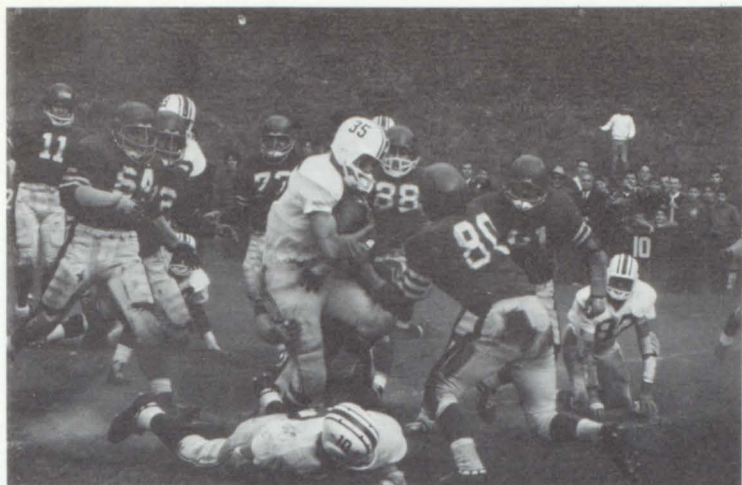

Because of their outstanding play, Brian Titus and Tom Marone were selected to be on the All-Housatonic League Team. Brian was also presented with the Savitt Award for outstanding play. Coaches Vanacore, DeMayo and Gilbride must be commended for an outstanding coaching job during this fine season.

Sharp shooting and aggressive rebounding against taller opponents helped North Haven to a fine year. The Indians were again in the thick of the fight for first place right up until the end of the season. The season had its "firsts," including our first victory ever over Hamden 62-52, and our first twin-win over East Haven, 67-65 and 59-52. Co-captain Larry Townsend, an All-Housatonic selection last year, held his own in the battle under the boards. Al McVay led the league with an average of 20 points a game. With the season completed, the team had compiled the fine record of 13 wins and 6 losses.

SWIMMING

The North Haven swim team is fairly new. It became a varsity sport for the first time this year. Although the team is well-coached and the swimmers have worked hard it has been a year of hardships. The team was struck with viruses and injuries. The meet against East Haven was a sad loss but again injuries hindered the swimmers. Although the swim team could not boast of a winning record, it did have some outstanding individual performances. It has been an enjoyable season for all swimmers and has left behind experiences that will never be forgotten.

TRACK

The Varsity Track Team relied heavily on the running events in its successful attempt for a winning season. The Indians won the Housatonic League Championship for the fourth year in a row. The team ended the season with 4 school records broken. Three members of the team participated in the State Class "A" finals and two—Ken Conforto and Ken Gates—took second and third places in the mile and quarter mile, respectively.

CROSS COUNTRY

The North Haven High School Cross Country Team finished the 1964 season with a 2 win, 6 loss record. This was disappointing but Coach Meenaghan was proud of his first two wins in three years. Varsity status was awarded to the team this year, and it is hoped that this will give added incentive to boys so that they will participate in this grueling sport.

BASEBALL 1964

North Haven baseball teams have enjoyed tremendous success over the past years and the 1964 team was no exception. The powerful Indians ran up an overall record of 16 wins and 4 defeats, including their fourth Housatonic League Championship within the last five years. The Indians also were ranked third in the Class A Tournament, losing out in the quarter-finals.

North Haven can attribute its success to balanced hitting and strong pitching. The Indians were led at the plate by Butch Barry who batted .379. Surprisingly strong support was provided by the junior class including Bob Muller (.367), Jim Bradanini (.348), Brian Titus (.347), and John Burnes (.312). Tom Murphy headed the pitching corps with a 10-1 record, best in the area. Al McVay, who will carry the bulk of the pitching load in 1965, was effective in his support of Murphy.

Last year's other graduated seniors, besides Barry and Murphy, who definitely helped carry the team included Rich Coyle (.305), Jim Bartolini (.275) and Bob Stopkowski (.365).

CHEERLEADERS

JOYCE GUIDONE

This year the cheerleaders were captained by Pat Matheson. Under her direction, the girls on the squad introduced new cheers, formations, and brand new winter uniforms.

Sounding like fifty lions instead of eight girls, the old cheer "Our team is GRRRRREAT" took on a new look when the girls used three split jumps instead of one to get the point across. Also included in the new set of cheers was "Let's give a cheer for the Varsity," a rousing fight song.

Although they often worked with a skelton crew (due to more than the usual injuries this year) the echoes of the 1965 cheering squad rang louder than ever at all the games and will always be remembered.

MAJORETTES

The Twirlers, with a wave of a baton zipped out on the football field, decked out with new routines and new uniforms. Sue O'Neill, besides looking very nice in her white jumper, did a tremendous job as captain of the twirling group. Mrs. Miller—advisor of the group also added her ideas to Sue's, and stayed frequently to drill the girls. A twist number was the favorite of the crowd, and as the weeks went by, fewer and fewer people left the stands for refreshments—they were staying to see the twirlers and marching band. Although the girls aren't QUITE ready for the Rockettes, they are a good reasonable facsimile.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

Coached by Mrs. Guarnieri, and lead by co-captains Christy Stapledon and high scorer Judy Reilly, the NHHS Girl's Basketball Team went through their second straight undefeated season. The team scored 3-1 overall marginal victory against their opponents in ten games. Long regarded as the second rate basketball team in North Haven High School, they managed to win the Housatonic Girl's League Championship 1965.

Your Life

"Kit Carson's the name!"

"The Time of Your Life" by William Saroyan was chosen as our Senior Class Play. The members of the cast and Mr. Simens, our director, can be complimented on a truly fine job. Saroyan's message is that we must live life to the fullest, while attempting to find the good which exists in every human being. One must always look for the good in any situation, no matter how dark or shady it may seem, and, above all, never judge another man, for, as Saroyan says in his prologue, "Every man is a variation of yourself. No man's guilt is not yours . . ." Controversy arose over the type of characters portrayed in the play,—drunks, prostitutes, "tough-guys"—however, after seeing the play, the audience came away with the idea that it was done in good taste and in a mature way. The cast made the greatest gain, for it came away with a greater insight into human nature and a larger capacity for tolerance and understanding. For this reason we consider our senior class play one of the greatest achievements of the year, and one which we will remember for a long time.

Mrs. Hilton,
To the most wonderful teacher that I have ever had. I don't know how I could ever thank you enough for all the good things you have done for me. I will never forget all the fun
I will be had 5th and 6th periods. I pray that again be next year. Have a wonderful summer and be good! I hope you pick your brains with my needle sometimes. Yours tell the Sun turns the Purple
lav yth
S. H.

Mrs. Hilton,
It's really been a pleasure having you as a teacher
This past year.
I've enjoyed the course more than
I thought. I have a nice summer
and don't work too hard.
